

Premier
CABLES LTD

Distributed Control System (DCS)

A distributed control system (DCS) is a computerised system for process and plant with a large number of control loops in which autonomous controllers throughout the system are supervised through a central operator who consolidates information ensuring continuous optimized plant operation.

Suppliers to the Automation Solutions Market include:

